Complete the following sentences with these words:

Word	Part Of Speech	Example
Come up	Phrasal Verb	Her birthday is coming up. What should we get her?
Recall	Verb	Wow, I'm sorry. I don't recall meeting you.
Commercial	Noun	I can't stand this commercial. Can you change the channel please?
To be into something	Phrase	She is really into cooking. She is always reading cookbooks and looking for new recipes.
Curfew	Noun	My parents have set an 11PM curfew for me tonight.
Despise	Verb	You should not eat garlic. Our boss absolutely despises the smell.
Craft	Noun / Verb	I would love to be able to craft something beautiful with my hands.
Purchase	Verb	I have never purchased anything over $1000 in my life.
Overly	Adverb	The man is an overly confident driver. He will crash one of these days.
Adopt	Verb	The company has adopted a new policy regarding product returns and exchanges.
Obligatory	Adjective	In this class, it is obligatory not to use your cell phones.
Gauge	Noun / Verb	He has no expression at all. It is nearly impossible to gauge what he will do next.
Sympathize (US - sympathise)	Verb	It is very difficult to sympathize with you as I have told you numerous times to stop skipping class.

Gripe	Verb	It is common to gripe about the weather when living in England.
Fulfill	Verb	If I do not get a good score on the test, I will not fulfill my goal of going to university this year.
Counterpart	Noun	The manager of LG was recently seen with his Samsung counterpart.
Status	Noun	The status of the decision is still unknown.
Ornament	Noun	The Christmas tree is decorated with such beautiful ornaments.
Bum (Homeless)	Noun (Slang)	That street has too many bums.
Decoration	Noun	Starbucks usually starts displaying Christmas decorations in October.
Sentimental	Adjective	This necklace is not just a necklace. It has sentimental value to me.
Haggle	Verb	In some countries, it is expected that customers and salespeople haggle over prices.
Punch (drink)	Noun	The punch served at the party was too sweet for me.
Insane	Adjective	Many homeless people may be a little insane.
To count on somebody	Phrasal Verb	I really do not want to buy this many cookies. I cannot count on myself to avoid eating them all at once!
Crappy	Adjective (Slang)	The weather is beautiful right now, but it will get pretty crappy next month.
To flunk out of school	Phrase (Slang)	The student has not been seen by any of his friends since he flunked out of school.

Dumb	Adjective (Slang)	I really found the movie last night to be quite dumb.
Distribute	Verb	The teacher will distribute the tests.
Make out (kiss)	Phrasal Verb (Slang)	I couldn't believe that the people were making out on the train in front of everybody.
Break up	Phrasal Verb	John and Wendy should break up. They are always fighting.
Evolve	Verb	If you don't do anything about the problem now, it will evolve into something much bigger soon.
Peer	Noun	I am much more comfortable around my peers. I always get nervous talking to my boss.
Equinox	Noun	The fall equinox takes place in September.
Festivity	Noun	There will be many festivities around town to celebrate the victory of the soccer team.
Livestock	Noun	My father has a really big farm. He raises livestock.
Crop	Noun	Most of the crops were destroyed in the flood.
Prank	Noun	There are many television shows these days that show people playing pranks and practical jokes on each other.
Practical Joke	Noun	There are many television shows these days that show people playing pranks and practical jokes on each other.
Declare	Verb	This country declared independence on the first of September.
Spread	Verb	The flu is spreading in this school. You should wash your hands often.

Announce	Verb	The man announced to his wife that he wanted a divorce.
Aroma	Noun	Although the aroma of this coffee is a little strange, it tastes really good.
Broadcast	Noun / Verb	This show is broadcast in twelve different countries.
Landmark	Noun	When we travel, my parents are mainly interested in seeing the important landmarks.
Align	Verb	My crazy friend believes she will meet her her soul mate when Earth aligns with Mars.
Float	Verb	It is very easy to float in the Dead Sea due to the large amount of salt.
Gravity	Noun	Although I don't think I would like to visit Space, I would love to feel zero-gravity.
Rotate	Verb	It takes 24 hours for Earth to rotate 360 degrees.

1. The most famous landmark in New York City is the Statue of Liberty.

2. News about the problem spread fast over the Internet.

3. When do you think Brad Pitt and Angelina Jolie will make out/ break up?

4. Insane/ homeless people often have untreated mental illnesses.

5. I love to spend time with my peers and talk about our experiences as English students.

6. People start to put up Christmas ornaments near the end of November. Houses have Christmas lights, stores have Christmas posters, and even Starbucks has special signs and cups in red and white.

7. April Fool's Day is a holiday where people play pranksé practical jokes on each other. (2 possible answers)

8. A good friend is someone you can really count on.

9. It's difficult to sympathize with rich people who complain about paying too much tax.

10. In many countries, it is common to haggle over price before purchasing something.

11. When I was in high school, my curfew was 12AM (midnight).

12. There are two equinoxes each year: one in September and one in March.

13. Many farmers grow crops, and others raise livestock.

14. The government declared announced that it was going to lower sales tax starting January 1st next year. (2 possible answers)

15. In this school, it is obligatory to speak English, study, and do homework whenever it is assigned.