I really want to go to the country of Ireland one day. There are several reasons why I want to go to this amazing place in Europe. First, I long to see the rolling green hills that make up the countryside of most of Ireland. Secondly, the city I want to visit most is Dublin because my aunt lives there. You can see where Dublin is located on the map I have included below.[1] Ireland is the 20th largest island in the world![2]

So we are here at SCOE and we are talking about Google Docs.
