

What The Tech? Free Air Everywhere-Milwaukee M12 Air Inflator

BY: Mitch Mitchell

This is a tool that you may not know existed or may not know you need, but this is a garage must have. Being under 5lbs also makes it great to pack for a car trip or take to the driveway, car storage, etc. Maybe you have ATV's or a trailer or even a wheelbarrow that's not really in a spot to check/fill the tires; this little inflator could save the day.

In minutes I was able to check & air up tires on multiple cars without having to drag a compressor around. You can set your desired air pressure; press start & the inflator will check pressure & then fill to setting you put in. The other feature that you may not think is important is the larger display; I won't have to search for readers just to air up tires anymore.

It comes with multiple fittings for filling different valves; all conveniently attached to the back of the unit. It sits flat on the ground & with a carrying handle making it super handy. This one came with the battery & charger. Milwaukee is a great brand of tools & equipment.
