Coffeelibrium Roasters- At Coffeelibrium Roasters, we are passionate artisans dedicated to the craft of specialty coffee. We source premium green beans from origins like Colombia, Ethiopia, and Kenya, and roast each batch to highlight its unique flavor. Our mission is to deliver an exceptional cup—from farm to bag to brew—while fostering sustainable, transparent relationships. We also believe in education: sharing knowledge about coffee origins, roasting, brewing methods, and sustainability to help our community better understand and enjoy every cup.	Instagram

Fickle Creek Farm- Fickle Creek Farm manages ~250 acres in Orange, Alamance, & Durham Counties, half of the acreage is used for producing 100% grass fed & finished beef and lamb, with 15 acres for pork, chickens, laying hens, turkeys, and vegetables. We manage our farm using strong regenerative agriculture principles including rotational grazing, forestry buffers, and humane animal management. All fruits and vegetables are naturally grown without synthetic chemical inputs. Eggs come from hens that range freely on pesticide-free pastures, eat locally-sourced non-GMO vegetarian feed, and never receive hormones or antibiotics. Meat chickens range freely on pesticide-free pastures, eat locally-sourced 100% non-GMO feed, and never receive hormones or antibiotics. Pigs roam freely in pasture and woodland areas. Cows and sheep are raised on pasture without medicated feed, hormones, or grain finishing. We are a 'Forever Farm' working towards all land under ag conservation easements. We sell all 95% products locally and directly to customers who we encourage to ask us questions about our farm and production methods. This Week: Full range of chicken including Italian links. Lots of beef and pork as well.	Website
Gabor farms- Gabor Farms is a produce farm that specializes in growing gourmet Mushrooms. Our mushrooms range from medicinal to just plain yummy.	Website
Green Dot Dyes- Green Dot Dyes specializes in functional art, using ice-dye, tie-dye, batik, and shibori techniques to create a wide variety of home goods, apparel, and décor. We start with natural plant-fiber fabrics (most often cotton, bamboo, linen, or rayon) and quality blanks, then tie and dye our work by hand using high-quality ingredients (soda ash, Procion dyes, professional textile detergent) with consistent attention to detail, ensuring that everything we offer is well-made, durable, and colorfast. Our handsewn collection showcases our custom-dyed fabric with a mix of vintage and original patterns, and we upcycle the fabric scraps from those pieces into magnets, ornaments, and other one-of-a-kind gifts. Just Like in Italy- Meet Chef Patrik, the heart and soul behind Just Like in Italy:

Growing up in Turin (Torino), in northern Italy, I was raised in a family where great food wasn't just a passion—it was our way of life. As restaurateurs, my family taught me that authentic Italian cuisine is about tradition, love, and bringing people together.

My culinary journey has taken me from Spain to France to the USA, but one thing has remained constant: my commitment to authenticity. Whether I'm creating a mouthwatering dessert, crafting Italian focaccia, or preparing savory treats, I'm sharing a piece of my heritage, a taste of my homeland, a moment of pure Italian joy. That's why I named my business "Just Like in Italy"—because I want you to experience that same magic I felt in my family's kitchen in Turin.

Today, I bring these authentic Italian flavors to the Triangle area through premier markets, restaurants, and straight to you. True Italian cuisine isn't just about the recipe—it's about creating moments of happiness, one delicious bite at a time. Taste the difference that passion, tradition, and authenticity make. Enjoy delicious treats Just Like in Italy.

Redbud Organic Farm- Redbud Farm, owned and managed by Clay Smith and Nancy Joyner, began in 2009 to grow a wide variety of vegetables and herbs. It is located in Alamance County on the land where Clay grew up on a family farm that has been owned by the family since 1945. From the beginning of Redbud Farm, organic practices were used, and the farm has been certified organic since the summer of 2009. Redbud Farm is fortunate to be one of the original vendors at Western Wake Farmers Market, selling produce since May 2009. The opportunity to build relationships with customers, watch children grow over the years, and enjoy the community at WWFM is a great experience. Clay and Nancy enjoy the direct contact with people at the market and providing individuals and families with organic, local, flavorful, fresh food. This week: Green beans, okra, butternut squash, baby ginger, eggplant, potatoes, peppers, zinnias	Website Instagram Facebook

Zephyr Family Farm- We focus on two main things when choosing what we grow. First and foremost we love Southern heirlooms! We grow several that are special to our family history and we enjoy sharing those connections. Whether you're from the south or not, we think it's really cool to eat a veggie that's been loved here for generations. Second, we focus on crops that help us adapt to the climate crisis. We seek out crops that can handle these changes and help us feed folks as we try to deal with this emergency. It also pushes us to learn about the wider plant world and other peoples culinary traditions. A plant might be new to me, but it's not "new". When I learn about a plant my goal is to center their traditional connections as we make new ones.

All the work on the farm is done by us (our three kids and dog are there for emotional support, lol). We currently have just under an acre in production, with another half acre in cover crop. We use only sustainable practices on our farm and passed our Certified Naturally Grown inspection in 2022. For us, sustainability looks like building soil health by reducing tillage practices to a minimum, using cover crops and crop rotation practices to manage weeds, pests and diseases, and using natural fertilizers, pesticides and herbicides very sparingly. We also constantly evaluate our practices to see where we can reduce the use of plastics and fossil fuels.

This week:

- Buy bulk Hibiscus- it freezes well! Pre-order: www.zf.farm
- Spring mix lettuce, bell peppers, Lagos spinach and Gongura.
