Licensing and Commercial Use

In addition to the working fee, I employ one of two licensing fees for commercial use in the cases of book covers, merchandising, promotional art, etc. based on the amount of work provided.

	One to Three Artworks	Four Artworks and Above
Royalties	10% gross revenue	5% gross revenue
One-time Commercial License	60% of total commission fee	40% of total commission fee

Individual cases may necessitate different royalty and licensing rates than the examples above.

The negotiation of rates is up to the discretion of the parties involved.

Small businesses please let me know your situation so we can negotiate smaller fees!

Terms of Service

By commissioning me you agree to ALL terms and their legal implications.

SECTION A: CLIENT RIGHTS

You, the client, retain the rights to:

1. A reasonable amount of revision.
 - a. I want the product to be something we're both happy with! However, please be decisive and clear with how you want the piece to be. This saves time and energy for both parties, and I can't reasonably spend weeks tweaking a list of tiny details. Unless I state otherwise, the maximum number of revisions will be three. Any more will cost my hourly rate of $27.

- b. Revisions not previously agreed on will be an extra charge of $20 (i.e; asking for a man on a horse, but then asking for a man in a car).
- c. You can give me as much information as you want (to a reasonable degree)! Send me pointers as descriptive as you want, send me sketches no matter how rough they may be, or if you want me to take the reins and be creative you can say that too!

2. Refund policy:

- a. Unlike most products, commission work isn't something you can return and I can resell (usually). Due to the time intensive nature of the work (time and work I can't get back), I can't afford to work at a net loss. The refund policy works as follows:
 - i. The 50% upfront deposit is nonrefundable. The deposit compensates me for my time spent consulting and for my supplies as a protection from scammers.
 - ii. A partial refund is available up to a maximum of 30 days after completion within policy. After this period there will be no refunds provided. In the case of a refund there will be no delivery of the project to you. Your final 50% payment can only be refunded for the following:
 - 1. The final product is irreparably off target. (i.e, the final product isn't anywhere near what you described and there is no way to fix it.)
 - 2. The project missed an agreed upon deadline. (Read below on if you qualify for a full refund).
 - iii. You potentially forfeit the right to a refund for the following reasons:
 - 1. I cancel the project for unprofessional behavior you exhibit including;
 - a. Harassing Behavior
 - b. Abusive Behavior
 - c. Infringement of My Privacy
 - d. Dangerous Conduct
 - e. Breaking Agreements/ Contracts
 - f. Obstructively Poor Communication

- g. Conduct jeopardizing others' safety, privacy, and/or rights to consent
- h. Attempted payment scams including but not limited to;
 - i. Overpayment Scam: You overpay on the agreed price and request to be refunded the difference. In this scenario the check is bounced and the Artist is scammed out of the difference.

3. A high quality file of the final product.

- a. Upon final payment and if it's a digital medium, I will send multiple file types in the original scale to your email. In the case of a physical medium, I will try to scan the artwork to the best of my ability at no extra charge.

4. A full refund if I, personally, abandon the project.

- a. If I decide to cancel the project personally, for reasons such as;
 - i. I feel like I am not up to the task of delivering a quality product.
 - ii. I have personal issues overwhelming me and need to cease work.
- b. You are also entitled to a full refund if I am grossly overdue for the deadline, this would mean I went multiple months without communication and without a finished product, i.e; I said I would have something done in April and it is now July with no updates. I will let you know if progress will be halted for a number of months.

SECTION B: ARTIST RIGHTS

I retain the rights to:

1. Refuse any offer, for any reason.

- a. In general I will not draw:
 - i. Fetish art that depict minors or animals
 - ii. Male erotic content

- iii. Political content
- b. Clients must be 18 years or older to commission me.
- c. I do not accept the following payment arrangements
 - i. I do not accept checks, I only take payment through:
 - 1. PayPal
 - 2. Square
 - ii. I do not work for free
 - iii. Deposit fees are non-negotiable
 - iv. I do not provide sketches or create samples before the deposit, you should base your decision to hire me on my portfolio

2. Post the work to social media.

- a. If you do not request that I refrain from posting the work, then I will do so and hold the right to do so without consulting you.

3. The finished work.

- a. By commissioning this art, you agree that you will not take credit for it.
 - i. You will not repost it with any watermark other than my own if a watermark is featured.
 - ii. You do not receive credit for the creation other than being the client.
 - iii. Commercial rights and intellectual property transfers are to be discussed and agreed on before completion.

4. Take legal action if the final payment is not received within two weeks (or other agreed upon deadline) of shipment, unless a payment plan is discussed.

- a. By commissioning my work, you agree to the following terms;
 - i. 50% of the transaction total must be paid upon the Artist approving of the Client's request as an initial deposit.
 - ii. The rest of the transaction total must be delivered once the Artist presents proof of completion.

1. Ceasing communication with the Artist for longer than a week will be considered a failure to deliver payment.
2. The Artist is not liable for whatever happens to the product during shipment. Payment must still be delivered in full.
3. Exceptions in the case of negotiated payment plans with a signed contract.

5. Ask for financial reports regarding royalty revenue for commercialized artwork and audit the royalties at any time.

- a. The artist will be reimbursed for missed payments and any legal fees by the offending party should the audit find the royalties paid in deviation from the contract.
- b. The artist is allowed to audit the opposing party for financial reports regarding royalty revenue at any time.

6. Sue for misuse (in regards to AI and non-authorized redistribution)

- a. By commissioning me, you agree to a NON-COMPETE clause whereby you waive the rights/ability to use my any of my work, including the contracted work and my general greater portfolio for the following purposes:
 - i. Commercial or Noncommercial Distribution without a licensing agreement
 - ii. *Any form of Artificial Intelligence/Machine Learning image generation dataset training, image-to-image input, or any image generator assisted transformation by either yourself or a third party
- b. By agreeing to my terms and conditions you agree that the terms of misuse outlined above be considered a legal breach of contract, copyright, and financial exploitation. Misuse may result in legal action, including claims of copyright infringement and breach of contract.
