PATREON REWARDS, EXPLAINED

ATTN: Due to COVID-19 and my personal circumstances, rewards are now in the form of exclusive Patreon-only posts for the time being instead of my art, though I may include exclusive art as additional posts. If you choose to support me, it should be from the heart more so than for the rewards.

NEW REWARDS:

- Exclusive posts to my Patreon feed, at least monthly (exclusive content, behind-the-scenes, sneak previews, voting rights, and more)
- Exclusive access to patron-only IG stories (updated at least weekly, though I'll often post every few days. Just lmk your IG handle so I can add you as a "close friend"). These are the same nature as my Patreon posts, but with more shots from my personal journal and occasionally quick vlog-style updates.

OLD REWARDS (invalid)

Current and potential patrons, please refer to this document for the rewards structure of my Patreon; any updates to rewards will be reflected here. Rewards for each tier are as follows for each month, you will receive 1 of the following possible set of rewards depending on what I'm working on:

1. Concept work for characters,
2. A traditional oil painting,
3. A patron-only written content post, such as AiB snippets, behind-the-scenes, etc.

or

4. A full render artwork (which tends to be the reward most months).

REWARDS CHANGE DEPENDING ON THE NATURE OF THE WORK

For concept work months, there will most likely not be progress shots due to the nature of the work. Concept art is less rendered than what you all have been receiving so far as it explores the potential design of characters. The focus tends to be on quantity, meaning exploration and variation, starting with sketches and working towards a selected final design as the choices are drawn and narrowed down.

For concept work and traditional paintings, higher tiers may receive explanations on my design thoughts as part of their higher-tier rewards instead of a PSD file or process video depending on my discretion. Currently, I am not doing

PSD/video rewards until my patronage returns to pre-COVID levels, and my personal situation allows me time to do this again.

Please refer to the tier breakdown on patreon.com/AgentRoseHQ for more specifics on rewards. Feel free to message me with any questions.

Please do not sign up for my Patreon if you feel that I owe you a relationship [ie. we have to “be friends” for you to support me]. Support from the heart only.

SUPPORT

While some of you use the rewards as learning tools or just to enjoy the art, I know others support me and my mission from their heart more than any other reason - thank you, no matter which group you fall into.

You can also support my work by letting people know about ANGEL IN BONDAGE, my art, and my blog, and by signing up for the agent email list on AgentRoseHQ.com - I rely on those who have cared enough to give my original work a shot to help let others know it exists, and every referral counts.
