

People I personally learned the dance from and highly recommend:

Prince Jron head and founder of HAVOC dance company is amazing in teaching the foundation and teaching you how to teach yourself. A real master in Chicago Footwork and I recommend learning from him to ANYONE who is serious about wanting to learn the artform. You can contact him directly on Instagram.

<https://www.instagram.com/princejron/>

MurdaMommy is amazing when it comes to connecting you with the art form, battle tactics and developing new vocabulary. Keep an eye on her group lessons in person in Chicago but she also is open to teach on zoom. You can contact her on IG

<https://www.instagram.com/murdamommy/> or email: murdamommy1@gmail.com

Rashad Harris from Tribe from Tribe dancecrew and BOT aka. Fly is the legendary Footworker who danced on a police car!

He is amazing at combining musicality and technicality, teaching you to do less to achieve more. And above all things: He teaches you how to speak footwork. A diamond in the dirt you do not want to miss out on! You can reach him on IG.

Quanzy Westside OG from first and second generation is best in teaching the Westside Ghost. You can contact him on Instagram:

https://www.instagram.com/the_don_of_all_footworker/

Or Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/profile.php?id=100008221804595>

King Charles head of Creation Global

My experience with King Charles was about bringing consciousness to creativity and awareness of shapes and angles. He is able to break down all the different elements that you can cook Chicago Footwork with and gets real experimental and tricky on how to do certain moves. Mr quantum physician of Chi Footwork. Above all he REALLY challenges your memory. If you got ADHD or some kind of trauma, don't knock yourself for having a hard time following through. But it sure will be a challenge you grow on! He teaches a advanced beginners class on Monday and a advanced class on Thursday on Zoom. You can sign up on the cfology homepage: <https://www.cfology.com/online-classes>

Or directly on IG: https://www.instagram.com/kingcharles_ws/

Miki Head of Creation Japan

The Japanese footworkers are known for deeply respecting and validating the culture on a next level. There for Miki is an amazing teachers for beginners giving you in depth background about steps and moves also about history and heritage. On top of that she developed manny exercises on how to trimm your stamina. If you are a beginner and want to have a steeper progression curve... you should take her class on Saturday. You can sign up on the Cfology page.

<https://www.cfology.com/online-classes>

Dancers I only had one or two classes with but had a lot of fun and learned a ton. They don't do regular zoom classes, but you can ask for privates on zoom.

Andrew/ AJ, TOG dance crew

How to be super efficient and smooth in transitions. Overall technicality and style. If you are in Chicago you wanna make sure to contact him for a private.

https://www.instagram.com/andrew_james_tog/

Jay Roc, Creation renegade

An amazing teacher on all levels. Personal IG:

https://www.instagram.com/jayroc_footwork/ but more likely to respond at:

<https://www.instagram.com/mostwantedchi/>

P Top from Goon squad/ The Era: <https://www.instagram.com/legendarytop/>

J Rock Wolfpack Crew: https://www.instagram.com/jonah_wolfpack/

Weezy: https://www.instagram.com/i_amchicagofootwork/

Queen Chrystal Terra Squad: https://www.instagram.com/iam_queencrystal/

Sub Zero from Below Zero

Sub has a complete style of his own. If you wanna learn a whole other footwork, hit him up. He might answer. His mental clarity and strength manifests in the shapes and geometry he creates. And there is just something about him... heck him out!

https://www.instagram.com/sub0_00/