

Product

Instead of writing a long research paper, we are going to create a product which allows us to show what we have learned. For instance, if I was actually researching why some vaccines do not work, I may make a model of a virus and have parts that show why the vaccine may not work. I may create a website showing this. Or a blog to show my finding. Your product is completely up to you.

There is only one thing you may absolutely NOT do. No Trifold boards/posters.
