I'm Meaghan Walsh and this is my 18th year at Stargate! I taught middle school social studies for my first 7 years here, and then was the first social studies teacher in the high school when we expanded. I split my day between Adroit and social studies for four years, and have now been full time in Adroit for several years. I grew up in Maine and attended Simmons University in Boston earning a degree in History and Education. I then went to the University of Maine Orono for my Masters in Middle Level Education. I also sponsor the National Honor Society at the high school. I love to travel and have visited over 20 countries, hang out with my family, and watch a lot of hockey!
