

Depression on College Campuses Annual Conference

March 14-15, 2023 | Ann Arbor, MI

9.0 CEs

Presented by the Eisenberg Family Depression Center at U-M, this year's annual conference explores the benefits and drawbacks of the hybrid landscape and its impact on student mental health in higher education. We'll examine how the hybrid model impacts connectedness, belonging and mental health, and how the digital space has influenced treatment delivery while providing new opportunities for innovative prevention programming. Through expert presentations, panel discussions, workshops and more, we'll disseminate new research findings, model programs and innovative strategies to improve mental health among college students. Registration required as seats are limited.
