

Chicken Commander Privacy Policy

Last Updated: August 10, 2026

This Privacy Policy explains how Chicken Commander ("the Game", "we", "us", or "our") handles information when you use the Game.

We respect your privacy. Chicken Commander does not directly collect, store, sell, or share personal information about its players.

1. Information We Collect

Chicken Commander does not directly collect or store personal information such as:

- Your name
- Your email address
- Your phone number
- Your physical address
- Your contacts
- Your photographs or media
- Your precise location
- Your payment information

We do not operate our own user database, analytics database, or advertising database containing personal information.

However, the Game uses third-party services that may process certain information as necessary to provide their services. These services operate independently and may collect information according to their own privacy policies.

2. Google Play Games Services

Chicken Commander uses Google Play Games Services to provide features such as achievements, leaderboards, and other game-related functionality.

When you use Google Play Games Services, Google may process information associated with your Google Play Games profile and your activity in the Game. This may include game progress, achievements, leaderboard information, gamer identity, and certain device or technical information.

This information is processed by Google in accordance with Google's Privacy Policy and Google Play Games' privacy practices.

For more information, please visit Google's privacy documentation:

<https://policies.google.com/privacy>

You can also manage or delete your Google Play Games profile and associated game data through your Google account settings.

3. Unity Ads

Chicken Commander uses Unity Ads to display advertisements.

Unity Ads is operated by Unity Technologies and may collect and process certain information from players' devices for purposes such as advertising, analytics, fraud prevention, security, and service functionality.

Depending on the user's device, location, settings, and applicable laws, this may include information such as device identifiers, IP address, approximate location, advertising-related information, and technical information.

Chicken Commander does not directly receive or store this information as its own user database.

Unity's processing of information is governed by Unity's applicable privacy policies and terms.

For more information, please visit:

Unity also provides information about its advertising privacy and data practices at:

4. Third-Party Services

The Game may rely on third-party services to provide certain functionality. These services may process information independently of Chicken Commander.

The third-party services currently used by the Game include:

- Google Play Games Services
- Unity Ads

We recommend reviewing the privacy policies of these providers to understand how they handle information.

5. Children's Privacy

Chicken Commander is not intended to knowingly collect personal information from children.

We do not knowingly collect personal information from children or any other users through our own systems.

Because third-party services such as Google Play Games and Unity Ads may process information independently, their respective age-related policies and privacy practices may also apply.

If you believe that a child has provided personal information directly to us, please contact us so that we can take appropriate action.

6. Data Security

Because Chicken Commander does not maintain its own database of players' personal information, we do not store personal information on our own servers.

Information processed by third-party services is subject to the security practices and privacy policies of those providers.

7. Data Retention and Deletion

Chicken Commander does not maintain a personal-information database and therefore does not independently retain personal information about players.

Data associated with Google Play Games or Unity Ads may be retained and managed by those respective providers according to their own policies.

For Google Play Games data, users can manage or delete their Play Games profile and associated data through their Google account settings.

8. Your Privacy Rights

Depending on your country or region, you may have certain rights regarding your personal information, including rights to access, delete, restrict, or object to certain processing.

Because Chicken Commander does not directly maintain a database of personal information, requests concerning information processed by Google Play Games or Unity Ads may need to be directed to the relevant service provider.

9. Changes to This Privacy Policy

We may update this Privacy Policy from time to time.

If we make changes, the updated version will be made available through the Game's store listing or another appropriate location.

The "Last Updated" date at the top of this Privacy Policy indicates when this Privacy Policy was most recently revised.
