Another Day In The Life (V 2.0):

(Vision when I accomplish my mid-term goal).

22 of July of 2024: I wake up ready for my first day of the 6th Semester of my college program: 4 am, pushups, mental checklist completed, grooming, perfect bold dark old money style, cook breakfast, do some client work ,then eat, the take the Jaguar, in the midst of the horrible traffic of my city listen to some podcast or TRW daily lesson, as I drive to Uni I'm doing Uber service for colleagues. Always feeling powerful, parked, everyone out, get early to class and start my 10 min analysis of the copy checklist, class 7 am probably or go to the library and start my g-work session, full focus, crush it with one of my client AGAIN, get out, have a call with him, my massive charisma and social skills makes him really proud of the work I've done, +$500 in the bank account. In the meantime, chicks looking at me, don't care, I know I have options and when I choose the best one she will inevitably say yes: "Finally I get to talk to Daniel, always saying that he is busy on his computer working, that annoys me, but I believe him, what I cant believe is how mature he is, not like this other skinny simps who won't stop vaping, clean shaved, clean dressed, clean body language and tonality, clean confident, clean movements, huge aura, I truly want to be an exception on his life, the woman he admires just as I admire him."

Train, learn, more classes, people look up to me, they know me from my social media presence through Instagram, Linkedin and Twitter, next, take the lead as always in the group works, a go back home and on my free time, I start building my own team (AI Automation + Marketing Agency) to skyrocket myself to +$5000 US, in the meantime, keep improving myself in each of the aspects that I lack.

Next day, repeat, next week, repeat, +$500.... Next week, repeat, +$600 US, money keeps coming in, and I just keep going up in this infinite upward spiral.
