

What i have seen in 10 min on social media

I went through youtube, facebook, twitter, and tiktok. What i mostly seen and popped up on my home page was sponsored ads showing mobile games.

Reason is i consume and search for information about gaming like league of legends, overwatch and more.

On facebook i joined groups trying to learn about digital art. So now i enter my home page the algorithm shows art study ads recommended or sponsored.

For the last minutes i had i went on tiktok to scroll through my for you page. All i see was recommend video of workout, anime motivation and board/video games content creators and no paid for ads. plus i don have or use ad blocker.
