TERMS AND CONDITIONS

Article 1 | Purpose

The following are the rules and regulations to participation in the International Agriculture Exhibition 2021("IAE 2023")

Article 2 | Definition

"Participant" refers to those who apply to attend and/or display at the IAE 2023.

"Manager" refers to the IAE Secretariat located at 18 Senam-ro, Sanpo-myun, Na-ju, Jeollanamdo Province, Korea.

Article 3 | Exhibition Application

To apply to the IAE 2023, fill out the application form and submit it to the IAE Secretariat.

Participants are responsible to advise the Secretariat should personal/company information change.

The Secretariat cannot take responsibility for outdated information.

Article 3-1 | Exhibition Period

It is hoped that exhibitors will stay for the entire exhibition period. However, if not possible, we request that you consult with the IAE regarding alternative arrangements.

Exhibitors who abandon their booths before the agreed term of participation will be responsible for paying the full value of the booth. The participant will have no option for recourse in this matter.

Article 3-2 | Cancellations or Alterations

Participants must send notice of cancellations or changes in writing.

Cancellations that occur three months before the Expo are eligible for next participation. However, any cancellations after that point will be restricted qualification for next event as well as will be charged 50 % of participation fee (USD 900).

Article 4 | Display Allocations

Participants will be granted a location at the Secretariat's discretion. Nationality, specialty and expertise will be considered in the allocation of exhibition space.

Depending on the situation, location changes may be granted.

The applicant may not change their place without IAE Secretariat's approval

Article 5 | Setup and Dismantling Booths

Participants must start set up their displays 2 days before the Expo and be inspected by Secretariat representatives.

Access to booths that have not received approval from the Secretariat may be restricted and products confiscated.

The participant will have no option for recourse in this matter.

The secretariat may restrict access and display items as deemed necessary.

Participants must dismantle their booths within 1 day from the end of the exhibition

Article 6 | IAE Cancellation or Alterations

In the event that the Secretariat cancels the exhibition, refunds will be offered to all participants. However, this does not apply to acts of god or unforeseen events. The applicant may not hold the Secretariat responsible in this case.

Article 7 | Security, Assurance, and Risk Bearing

The IAE Secretariat is taking full measures to ensure that participants and visitors are safe and secure throughout the exhibition.

Participants must assume responsibility for their property throughout the duration of the exhibition and are asked to purchase insurance.

Article 8 | About Soliciting

Applicants shall not engage in direct selling without prior approval from the IAE Secretariat. This applies to both wholesale and retail sales. Violators will be asked to leave the exhibition and the Secretariat will take no responsibility for losses resulting in such.

Article 9 | Customs

Overseas applicants must respect the customs laws of the Republic of Korea.

Article 10 | Supplement Regulations

The Secretariat reserves the right to add new rules to the specified contract.

Participants will be notified of these changes

Applicants must follow the Secretariat's decisions

Article 11 | Interpretation of Words and Phrases

In the case that the interpretation of this document between the participant and the Secretariat differs, the Secretariat interpretation will be followed.

Article 12 | Conflict Resolution

Disputes between Participants and the Secretariat will be resolved through the Korean Commercial Arbitration Board and the resulting verdict must be followed.
