

SUBJECT LINE: Selna Kim - THE face of dating? (His catchphrase is America's face of dating)

Hi Selna.

You have a gift for speaking to the camera and helping men with your message. It's inspiring to hear about the obstacles you had to overcome to get to where you are now.

I can tell a lot of hard work and sacrifice has gone into everything you do.

However, I think for the amount of effort that goes into your content, you should have a lot more engagement.

I have some ideas that could help you with this...

After analyzing the top players in this industry, such as Casey Zander, Stirling Cooper and Todd V dating, just to name a few, I have picked up on 2 common strategies that best of the best are using that could improve your business and get more clients.

If you implement these strategies, you could be competing on a different level in your market.

Not only could this generate much more traffic, but could also propel you to the top of this industry.

I know you want to be number 1.

Would you like to do a call to discuss what I have in mind, or ask me questions over email first?

Hope all is well,

Horatio.
