

 Are you still asking this stupid question to your friends with y2k pieces?

This question you are mindlessly asking, may actually hurt you more than it helps.

“whEre dID yOu geT tHaT PiEce FrOm?”

(They never tell you, don't they?)

But really tho, (apart from the ego boost you are giving them).

Where do they find those clothes that make you vanish into their shadow when you walk next to them?

Instead of wasting your time trying to ask your way into a better style.

Find every single y2k piece you have ever searched for in one place,

Along with the free 20% i am giving to everyone reading this (48 hours left)

And let them ask you where you got that eye-catching fresh outfit from.

Ps. Don't tell them 😊
