

SL: A few things that would make you a lot of money

Brian, not only are your many accomplishments astounding, but the value in Power Rack Strength is also highly impressive.

I'm only looking at your business from the outside in,

But I see a few opportunities that I could help you achieve that might interest you.

Maximizing your capacity for online coaching clients. – We can do this by showing potential customers the true value they would receive with your coaching, and what they would miss out on if they don't sign up.

Presenting Gift of Injury and 10/20 life as much more than just books, rather highly valuable powerlifting wisdom.

Making your CBD products put a dent in the CBD/recovery game. (Big money here)

Again, I don't know everything about your business yet, but if any of the above interests you then we should hop on a call so I can learn more about your goals.

What does your calendar look like this week?
