

Democracy Under Attack: Denounce Azerbaijan's Invasion of Armenia

On September 13, 2022, Azerbaijan's autocratic leader Ilham Aliyev launched an unprovoked and unjustified invasion of the Republic of Armenia. The Azerbaijani Armed Forces used indiscriminate artillery bombardments and UAV strikes to target major population centers well into Armenia's sovereign territory. As a result of Azerbaijan's attacks, at least 207 Armenians have been killed or declared missing, 7,600 civilians have been displaced, and 192 homes have been damaged or destroyed. Armenians now face the imminent threat of violence and displacement throughout the entire southeastern region of the country.

Aliyev has made his intentions very clear — to eradicate Armenia and Armenians. The immediate dangers of Azerbaijan's brazen military campaign cannot be overstated. Aside from the lives at stake, thousands of years of indigenous Armenian heritage will be subjected to cultural genocide. Caucasus Heritage Watch, a research initiative led by archaeologists from Cornell and Purdue Universities, published a comprehensive report documenting Azerbaijan's near-total erasure of Armenian cultural heritage sites under its jurisdiction.

Azerbaijan is not the only regional power with expansionist ambitions. Just two days before the brutal invasion of Ukraine, Russia and Azerbaijan signed an agreement cementing their allied relations, further isolating Armenia as a democracy in a sea of autocracy. Following Russia's example, Azerbaijan now occupies territory within Armenia's borders, terrorizes its citizens through continuous shelling, and attempts to bypass diplomacy through brute force. Unbridled Azerbaijani aggression has resulted in the real risk of a full-scale war, further eroding the rules-based international order.

On September 16, the consequences of global inaction were revealed when Azerbaijani soldiers released the first in a horrifying series of videos celebrating the mutilation of Armenian servicewomen. These videos reflect a state-sanctioned ethnic cleansing campaign, part of a broader strategy to impose psychological terror on Armenians worldwide. To that end, the Lemkin Institute for Genocide Prevention recently issued a “Red Flag Alert” regarding the imminent threat of genocide against Armenians by Azerbaijan. Against the backdrop of these horrifying developments, the silence of our institutions invalidates our lived experiences as Armenians.

During her historic visit to Armenia this weekend, House Speaker Nancy Pelosi said it best: “Today, from the US to Ukraine to Taiwan to Armenia, the world faces a choice between democracy and autocracy — and we must, again, choose democracy.”

A voice for Armenia is a voice for democracy. American universities have long been centers of intellectual discourse that uphold and strengthen democratic ideals. Given Azerbaijan's targeted

disinformation campaign, and the international media's failure to provide accurate coverage of the situation, the academic community's response is more critical now than ever.

We urge our peers and educators to join us in condemning Azerbaijan's assault on humanity and stand in solidarity with the Armenian people against authoritarianism. We challenge you to show the world that the American scholarly community does not accept these threats to democracy, diplomacy, and human rights.

Here's how you can help:

1. Raise awareness by sharing our statement with your mailing list.
2. Urge your network to visit www.armenian-assembly.org/advocacy and www.anca.org/907 to support a bipartisan resolution to end U.S. military aid to Azerbaijan and condemn its aggression.
3. Donate to trusted organizations like the Center for Truth and Justice, Armenian Wounded Heroes Fund, 1000 plus.am, miaseen.org, and allforarmenia.org, to help families of wounded and fallen soldiers and thousands of displaced civilians.
4. For reliable on-the-ground reporting, follow news outlets like CivilNet, EVN Report, and Azatutyun.
