

Subject Line: If You Have Considered Giving Up...

Chris,

Be honest, have you thought of quitting?

Did you think you would be making way more money by now?

Having too many clients to choose from?

Telling your boss to sh*ve it and live your dream life?

You are not alone.

I felt the same way at the beginning of my journey.

The only thing that separated me from the copywriters who didn't achieve their goals was...

Persistence.

I knew I needed the grit to push through and come out the otherside a G.

Because the truth is most of them had no idea just how close they were.

All it takes is the right message to the right person at the right time and BOOM,

You're living your dream lifestyle racking in thousands a month working from wherever you want...

Hell, you could work in the Bahamas sippin' piña coladas all day if you want.

Many of my students have quit their 9-5 and are now making full time incomes from home

Only working 2-3 hours every day.

And they are no different from you!

The choice is ultimately up to you.

Now with a little nudge in the right direction and a hell of a lot of persistence from you.

I want to show you how you can become a $10k/mo copywriter in only 90 days.
