

Megan Fox to be “Knocked Up” in comedy

If all goes well, sultry siren Megan Fox might get a chance to try her hand in comedy in the sequel of Judd Apatow’s 2007 hit, Knocked Up. According to her husband, actor Brian Austin Green, Megan is in talks with Judd Apatow for the sequel and is quite excited about it. The others included in the star cast are Paul Rudd and Leslie Mann and Apatow will once again write and direct the project. Nothing has been disclosed about what character Megan will play in the sequel.

Megan has just finished work on two movies, Jennifer Westfeldt’s comedy Friends with Kids and drama thriller Passion Play with Mickey Rourke which is due for a short theatre release after it failed drastically at the Toronto International Film Festival last year. Megan also guest stars in Desperate Housewives along with husband Brian Austin Green. Megan also recently did an advert for fashion giant Emporio Armani.

Apart from Transformers, Fox was seen in Jennifer’s Body in 2009 and Jonah Hex in 2010 both of which did not fare very well. If this project clicks it will help Megan pick up the strings of her plummeting career after she walked out of the Transformers franchise last year.
