

Goals:

1. What do you want? What do you want to have? When, where, and with whom?

My Marketing agency has 11 clients by 31.1.2024, which brings a profit of $15k/month. After all costs are covered and the rest is split with my business partner in half, I have $5750 or 5455€ before tax in my pocket.

I live in a rented beautiful three-room black and wooden apartment in one specific place in my city with my girlfriend. When I look outside of its windows, I have a view of the city's castle. Everything I need groceries, gym, barber, and massages are nearby. I can take my girl for a walk to a nearby park or dinner at one of the few Italian restaurants nearby.

I bought a grey 2013 Audi A5 Sportsback 2.0 TDI with 177HP and 4x4 drive with 180000km for 15000 EUR on 2.6.2025. I also bought 19" rotor wheels from RS5 for 900EUR on 22.7.2025.

2. How will you know you achieved this? What will you see, hear, feel, smell and taste? What would you look like/sound like?

I see higher 4-digit and lower 5-digit numbers in my bank. I see 12 active (1 is my agency) HighLevel sub-accounts.

I wake up in that apartment with a much bigger bed than I have now, and after I am done brushing my teeth and cleaning my face, I go straight to the gym by walking. And during lunch, I smell the juice of beef steaks being cooked instead of chicken.

I have an Audi key lying on a shelf next to the entrance door to the apartment. When I take those keys I go straight to the garage where I see my grey 2013 Audi A5 Sportsback parked, I press the unlock button, open the door, and start the car.

3. What will happen if you get this result? How would your life change?

I am fully self-reliant, living in my own place.

I have a car so I can travel to places nearby.

I travel more to new places around Europe with my girlfriend like Venice, Rome, and Florence, even outside of Europe like Maldives, Bali, and Dubai.

I am adding new suits and dress shoes, to my collection.

4. What will not happen if you get it?

I would not need to live with my parents.

I would not need to rely on my parents financially since I was also working with them while running my Marketing Agency

5. What will happen if you don't get it?

Nothing would happen, I would be only trying to change.

I would be only living the same life in my parent's house, with one not-that-pleasant person, still sleeping in the same room, that only has a bed and a wardrobe.

6. What do you get to have by remaining the same person? (meaning, maybe being a loser has some benefits, what are those benefits?)

No benefits. Nothing.

7. How do you know it's worth getting? What's so special about that?

The financial goal lets me be free financially and allows me to live in my own place with more privacy, a bigger bed, and a room with a better background to have sales calls in.

8. How will this affect your life? Family, business, job, friends, etc.

I have financial freedom and independence, which allows me to have locational freedom, live wherever I want, and do whatever I want with whoever I want.

9. What will be different as a result of having this?

Everything. New healthier environment. Everything I need is nearby. I can travel more by myself, rather than relying on others or public transport.
