

Tips for Online Success at SCU

All SCU online courses are asynchronous, meaning there is no live meeting that you have to attend. Attendance is met through the submission of weekly assignments. All of our faculty are asked to either meet one-on-one virtually or over the phone if the student requests such a meeting. All due dates are Central Standard Time zone.

Basic Canvas Navigation Video

1) Online weekly start and end dates (CST):

- o Online week begins each Tuesday (Day 1)
- o Online week ends each Monday (Day 7)

2) Most assignments are due Day 7 (Monday) CST.

3) Weekly Discussions have 2 due dates:

- o Initial post is due Day 3 (Thursday)
- o Replies to 2 classmates are due Day 7 (Monday)

4) Spiritual Life Forums have 1 due date: Day 3 (Thursday).

5) Customize your Notifications in Canvas to receive emails and/or push notifications to your mobile devices when course announcements are posted, as well as other items such as due dates, grades, etc. You can customize the notifications by going to: Canvas > Account > Notifications >

6) Pay attention to your To-do List in Canvas each day.

Let's schedule a meeting to discuss this in person. I have some suggestions for the flow I want to go over with you.

Some good ideas here. For the most part, you stay on topic. I think improving the transition into this paragraph would really strengthen the point you're trying to make. T [...]

Don't lose the main point of your paper

Emily Boone
Can we set up a meeting about this? I'm kind of confused about how to bring this back to the main point and any guidance you can provide would help me understand how to make this paper better. Thanks again!
