

Hi Arin and Yee,

I first saw Bang Powder at Fine Fellas and liked how it looked on the shelf. I figured I'd look it up online, and it turns out, it's reasonably priced and seems to have a lot of good reviews.

I noticed you weren't running any ads. Is there a reason for that, or would you be open to trying something new?

I've put together a few ideas I think could help boost your visibility.

Would you be interested in seeing them?

Here's an example.

