

Stung

I predict that The woman was on a walk and she stood on a beehive that was made on the ground. The bee's got very angry and stung her she started running and took off her t shirt to cool down. She started calling the ambulance to help her because she was allergic to bees her phone wouldn't work there was no reception so she had to try again and it worked. We will later the ambulance came she rushed over they give her an injection
