Introduction

Welcome to the Refold public crowdsource document for Hebrew. There are so many resources around the internet that they can be hard to navigate. This document provides a map of Hebrew content and tools for immersion learners. The information in this document will always be free to the public.

This content is maintained and curated by Refold. If it helped you and you want to see us build more guides and tools, please support us on Patreon!

Contributions

This document is open for public comments and suggestions. If you would like to contribute, edit the document and a moderator will review your submission to make sure it is in the correct place and formatted correctly.

When submitting content, please explain:

- What is the content about?
- What dialect is used (If applicable)?
- Does it have matching subtitles?
- Specific format:
 - Title \(hyperlinked\): description/summary. Dialect. Difficulty level.

Thank you for your contributions!

Document Structure

The document is broken into 2 sections: Stage-Specific Tools and Native Content.

Stage-Specific Tools includes things like vocabulary decks, simplified beginner content, and good language parents.

Native Content is a library of interesting content organized by type and genre.

Note: it is ok to duplicate content between the two sections.
