NDAESP Award Nomination

BELL RINGER AWARD

DUE: January 14

Clarence Corneil was the first National Distinguished Principal in North Dakota. He established this award during his long-time leadership in the NDAESP. It was originally called the “You Done Good” Award and was intended to recognize and celebrate some accomplishment or contribution by an association member. A number of years after establishing the award, it was changed to the Bell Ringer Award. It identifies those individuals who are nominated by their peers for their positive contributions, for making a difference, and for “doing good.”

Criteria:

- 1) The nomination must be completed by a peer.
- 2) The nomination documents a positive educational contribution or accomplishment.
- 3) Ineligible persons include: Past Recipients of the Award

Name of Nominee:	Morgan Schwartzenberger
School & District of Nominee:	Edgeley Public School
Local Newspaper of Nominee:	Lamoure County Chronicle
Name of Nominator:	Mary Beth Carlson
School & Email of Nominator:	marybeth.carlson@k12.nd.us Edgeley Public School

Describe the positive educational contribution or accomplishment of the nominee:

Mr. Schwartzenberger is an exemplary leader. He holds true to our district values of Excellence + Purpose=Success. He shares this statement everyday schoolwide, and upholds these values by having high expectations of himself, his staff and students. He truly cares about each of his students and their well-being, in and out of the classroom. He builds strong relationships with students and their parents, and creates trust and support for a successful high school journey. He works closely with staff members to ensure students have choices-choices in the many class offerings, choices to obtain dual-credits, choices in career paths, choices to meet new people, choices to be a better person. Edgeley High School was recently recognized as being in the top 10% of schools in ND, and I have no doubt Mr. Schwartzenberger’s leadership and values were a factor in that fantastic achievement!
