

Copyeditor (Freelance)

Application deadline: APPLICATIONS ARE NOW CLOSED.

Expected Hours: Contractor. Likely an average of 5-10 hours' work per month, depending on the applicant and AIM's needs.

Location: Remote (timezone overlap with the UK is a bonus)

Compensation: Based on need. Likely around £15-20 per hour.

Start date: Ideally from January 2025

How to apply: APPLICATIONS ARE NOW CLOSED.

In Short

Ambitious Impact (AIM) is a growing nonprofit organisation running training and incubation programs aimed at establishing and supporting a flourishing high-impact, effectiveness-focused philanthropic ecosystem, with a lively community office in East London. More information is available on our website.

We are looking for a talented freelance copyeditor to help us maximise the quality of AIM's written communication, including through our website, blog posts, and research reports. In this role, you will review assignments to review pieces of written by staff at AIM that are due for publication. You will demonstrate a sharp eye for detail in your edits to ensure consistent and accurate spelling, grammar, and formatting. For the right candidate, additional work may be available to produce written work for AIM in addition to editing work produced by the team.

If you have questions about the role that are not answered here, please contact ben@charityentrepreneurship.com