

Here is a website that PHSC faculty created which serves as our English Comp I textbook
Writing-center.phsc.edu

The Simple Math of Writing Well by Dr. Jeanie Harrop (used by Claire A. Miller in ENC 0026 Developmental Writing II)

“Shareable-ness” How do we share our content with other teachers?

LTI plug in for Curriculum builder from EBSCO

LTI plug in for LibGuides

Using Libguides as the “reader” for Comp 1 (ENC 1101)

Lake Sumter State College has a Literature Libguide that is used for ENC1102 as the textbook.

Lumen as a lab for grammar and sentence structure

Faculty wanted a printed textbook= “page per thing/concept” model so that faculty OR students can print just the needed session.

Sample papers should be PDFs with comments so students can’t just copy and paste

Films on demand has a ton of grammar and writing videos

TAKEAWAYS

Single sign on should be an institutional priority to encourage usage of library resources and make accessing supplemental resources painless. Point of OER HAS to be leveraging high quality resources that we already pay for.

Licensing and sharing content should be a core value for faculty created content.