

UPDATE AS OF 10/19

These are the twenty-two House members who voted NO on Jordan in the SECOND round. I'm also including the two who voted no the first time and then switched to yes on Jordan in the second round (marked with an asterisk *). Let's call them and say thanks (or in LaMalfa and Spartz's cases "shame on you!"). And tell them to stay strong, since JJ just announced he's going to call a third vote.

You can literally just say:

"I'm calling to thank the lawmaker for voting NO on Jim Jordan's speaker bid. He would have been a disastrous choice for House Speaker. I know the representative received an enormous amount of pressure and even threats, and I know that his/her staffers also received abuse. I'm sorry that happened and I want you to know that Americans like me are really grateful for their courage. Thanks again for protecting our democracy. Please vote no again if he goes through with a third vote. Thanks."
