

Detailed Itinerary

Deen Musafir — Umrah Reset + Jeddah Closure

28th October – 9th November '26

13 Days / 12 Nights

Route: Jeddah → Makkah → Madinah → Jeddah

Arrival: Jeddah

Return: Jeddah

Stay Split: 6N Makkah + 5N Madinah + 1N Jeddah

Intercity Travel: Road transfers, Air transfer

Group Size: 15 souls

Not just Umrah. A slower reset before returning to life.

Deen Musafir Philosophy

A slower, salah-led Umrah experience for young Muslims who want more than logistics.

This journey follows a more natural Umrah rhythm:

Makkah — The Purpose

Arrive, perform Umrah, surrender, and let the heart adjust.

Madinah — The Softening

Slow down around Masjid Nabawi, Seerah, Rawdah guidance, and quiet reflection.

Jeddah — The Closure

A gentle return through sea air, culture, and one final pause before going home.

The experience is built around:

- salah timings
- rest windows
- verified Seerah
- practical Umrah prep
- women-conscious movement planning
- no exaggerated storytelling
- no forced emotional performance

The goal is not to rush sacred places.

The goal is to give the heart enough space to feel what it needs to feel.

Day 1 — Arrival + Road to Makkah

Theme: Arrive with purpose.

Land at Jeddah Airport.

Immigration, luggage, airport pickup, and the first Saudi breath.

From there, the group moves by road towards Makkah.

- Airport meet & greet
- Road transfer to Makkah
- Hotel check-in
- Rest and freshen up
- Light briefing depending on arrival time

If timing and group energy allow, Umrah may be performed at night.

If not, we keep it for the next morning.

No rush.

No pressure.

Just arriving properly.

Day 2 — First Umrah

Theme: The reason you came.

The group begins with a simple Umrah briefing.

- Ihram and intention guidance
- Tawaf guidance
- Sa'i guidance
- Duas and movement support
- What to expect physically and emotionally

The first sight of the Kaaba is kept calm.

No over-talking.

No scripted emotion.

No pressure to react a certain way.

After Umrah, the day stays light:

- rest
- food
- Haram time
- personal duas
- recovery

Practical note:

Umrah can easily cross 20k+ steps. Hydration, comfortable footwear, rest, and anti-chafing prep matter.

Day 3 — Cave Hira + Makkah Reflection

Theme: Where revelation began.

A deeper Makkah day.

The planned experience is Jabal al-Noor / Cave Hira reflection.

This is not treated as just a hike.

It is a Seerah moment connected to solitude, revelation, silence, and the beginning of the message.

The experience will be planned around:

- weather
- timing
- group fitness
- safety
- local guidance

For those who are not comfortable with the climb, a softer viewpoint / reflection option can be kept.

Evening remains open for:

- Haram time
 - rest
 - personal duas
 - optional tawaf

Day 4 — Makkah: Let It Land

Theme: Don't rush past the feeling.

After Umrah and Cave Hira, the body and heart need space.

Some people feel emotional immediately.

Some feel tired.

Some feel peaceful.

Some feel very normal at first.

All of it is valid.

This day stays intentionally slow:

- flexible Haram time
- salah-led rhythm
- Quran
- duas
- rest blocks
- optional night tawaf

Sometimes the real moment does not arrive during the first Umrah.

Sometimes it comes later, quietly, when no one is watching.

Day 5 — Makkah Ziyarat + Sacred Geography

Theme: Understand where you are.

A light Makkah Ziyarat day, depending on access, traffic, timing, permissions, and group energy.

Possible Seerah-linked stops may include historically relevant areas around Makkah.

The rule is simple:

No exaggerated stories.

No spiritual theatrics.

No sermon energy.

Just verified Seerah, adab, and meaning.

The day does not become a checklist.
It stays calm, factual, and grounded.

Evening remains for:

- Haram time
 - personal duas
 - rest
 - quiet companionship

Day 6 — Final Makkah Day

Theme: Make it yours.

Your last full day in Makkah.

No aggressive scheduling.
No forced movement.

Everyone gets to choose their rhythm:

- more Haram time
- personal duas
- Quran
- rest
- optional tawaf
- optional second Umrah support, if feasible

The day is designed to let each Musafir own their Makkah experience.

At night, the group closes the Makkah phase with a simple dinner / reflection.

Prompt:

What are you taking from Makkah into your real life?

Day 7 — Road to Madinah

Theme: From intensity to softness.

Check-out from Makkah.
Road transfer to Madinah.

The emotional rhythm changes here.

Makkah is intensity.
Madinah is softness.

The road becomes a decompression space:

- rest
- quiet conversation
- duas
- transition

Arrival in Madinah.

Hotel check-in.

A gentle first evening around Masjid Nabawi, depending on group energy.

Language note:

In Madinah, we use Masjid Nabawi, Nabawi area, or Prophet's Mosque area — not “Haram area.”

Day 8 — Madinah: Safety + Softness

Theme: You are safe here.

Madinah is not entered aggressively.

The day begins gently around Masjid Nabawi.

Optional rhythm for those who want it:

- Tahajjud
- Fajr
- breakfast
- rest
- Zuhr

The group receives a practical orientation around Masjid Nabawi:

- gates
- routes

- meeting points
- nearby food areas
- movement flow
- women's access points where relevant

This matters because women's entrances and access routes can be limited, and walking times may be longer than expected.

When people know where they are, they relax.
That is part of safety.

Night can include a light chai / café moment for those who want to ease into the Madinah rhythm.

No forced sharing.
No heavy icebreakers.
Just quiet belonging.

Day 9 — Quba + Uhud + Seerah Memory

Theme: Walk through sacred history.

Main Madinah Ziyarat day.

Planned around salah where possible.

Key stops:

- Quba Mosque — ideally around salah
- Uhud Mountain
- selected Seerah locations depending on time, access, and group energy

The storytelling stays real, factual, and human.

No overclaiming.
No exaggerated miracle stories.
No pressure to feel something.

Just history that helps the heart understand.

The evening remains open around Masjid Nabawi.

Reflection prompt:

What part of you became quieter today?

Day 10 — Rawdah + Presence Day

Theme: Do less. Feel more.

A lighter Madinah day.

Rawdah / Roza-e-Rasool ﷺ guidance will be provided through the official app.

Everyone should register on Nusuk before the trip.

Access depends on:

- official permit availability
- app rules
- eligibility
- timing windows
- Saudi regulations

So it cannot be guaranteed.

If it happens, early morning is preferred.

If it does not, the day still holds meaning.

The rest of the day stays open for:

- salah
- duas
- Quran
- rest
- silence
- personal reflection

Madinah teaches acceptance too.

Day 11 — Madinah Museum + Stillness

Theme: See the story with clarity.

A softer educational day.

Possible visit to a Seerah-focused museum such as Dar Al Madinah Museum, depending on feasibility.

This helps young Musafirs understand the world of the Prophet ﷺ with more context and less guesswork.

The rule remains:

No exaggeration.

No unverified claims.

No emotional manipulation.

Just verified history, thoughtful explanation, and room to ask questions.

The evening remains open around Masjid Nabawi.

The day ends slowly.

Prompt:

What do you want to keep from Madinah when you return home?

Day 12 — Madinah → Jeddah by Air

Theme: Return to the world gently.

Check-out from Madinah.

Transfer to the airport for domestic flight to Jeddah.

Jeddah becomes the bridge back to normal life.

- airport transfer
- domestic flight to Jeddah
- Jeddah hotel check-in
- rest
- calm evening
- soft city moment depending on timing

Possible Jeddah experience:

- Corniche
- Al-Balad walk
- relaxed dinner

Not loud.

Not rushed.

Not shopping-led.

Just a gentle return.

Day 13 — Jeddah + Departure

Theme: Return differently.

Slow breakfast.

Packing.

Final personal time.

Depending on flight timing, there may be a light final Jeddah moment before airport transfer.

The journey ends from Jeddah.

Not with noise.

Not with a hard crash back into routine.

But with a quieter internal line:

I came for Umrah.

I returned with a reset.

Important Notes

- The itinerary is designed around salah timings, rest windows, and group energy.
- Rawdah / Roza-e-Rasool ﷺ access is subject to official permit availability and cannot be guaranteed.
- Cave Hira / Jabal al-Noor will be planned with safety, timing, weather, fitness, and local guidance in mind.
- A softer viewpoint / reflection version may be kept for those who cannot climb.

- Final daily timings may shift due to salah timings, traffic, flight schedules, permits, local rules, and group movement.
 - Religious storytelling will remain factual, respectful, and non-exaggerated.

Positioning

Not just Umrah — a reset before returning to life.

Designed for young Muslims who want an Umrah experience that is slower, safer, emotionally grounded, and spiritually intentional.

Deen Musafir

Travel that resets the heart.

Less noise. More noor.

D. Other City Notes

- Keep major shopping for Jeddah
- Riyadh can offer optional leisure time

3

Pain Points Reported

- Exaggerated or weakly sourced religious stories
- Travelers fact-checking guides themselves
- Random / difficult Rawdah slot access
- Heat + long walks, especially for women's entrances
- Physical exhaustion: Umrah can be 22k+ steps
- Ihram rash / chafing for men
- Makkah and Madinah shopping can be expensive
- New pilgrims unsure about which duas to read

4

Practical Advice from Reviews

- Use factual, question-friendly religious guidance
- Do not make sweeping spiritual claims without proof
- Sleep after Isha; wake for Tahajjud and Fajr
- Do Rawdah early morning if possible
- Register and monitor Nusuk slots actively
- Visit Makkah / Madinah for worship, Jeddah for shopping
- Group visits can reduce transport cost and improve bargaining
- Men should apply Vaseline before Umrah
- Train your body before travel
- For second Umrah, Juranah was recommended over Masjid Ayesha
- Ufone roaming note mentioned: 5GB ~ PKR 2.5k
