EDU515 Quiz 2 File by Tanveer Online Academy

Which of the following spheres comprises all living organisms of the earth?	Biosphere
The rocks formed on Earth's surface from cooled lava or volcanic ash are called:	Igneous
The maximum % of the earth's crust volume consists of :	Igneous Rocks
How many major classes of Earth's crust rock are there?	3
Which of the following zone is the outermost or peripheral area of biosphere reserve?	Manipulation
Which of the following layer is above the stratosphere?	Mesosphere
The technique of getting knowledge without having any physical contact with the object is called:	Remote Sensing
What does a remote sensor measure?	Radiation
What are the shell envelopes or shields of gases surrounding the Earth called?	Atmosphere
Which of the following sphere overlaps all other three spheres of Earth's physical environment?	Hydrosphere