

SL: Eye-Catching

Hey -,

I saw your recent Instagram post on artificial food dyes, and looked up what you're saying about seed oils. I really appreciate you spreading this message and the truth!

In a world where all those "nutritionists" are calling to go vegan, drink soy milk and all other nonsense - it's good to have you.

But, I'm sure you overlook some things in your strategy that could help you gain a bigger audience.

I'm a big fan of ancestral eating (Well, not exactly ancestral, but much closer than these processed-food eaters). I know I need to help you reach out to more people, so they can find out what stops them from being healthy.

Imagine an innovative Instagram ad approach that can make your brand stand out and attract more attention. I call this Click Conjurer.

As a gift, I've put together a couple of these eye-catching ads. I've attached them below.

Would you like to test these out?

I'm certain this strategy will make a real difference. You can be at the top of this industry.
