

CALL TO ACTION #2: Stop the Administration's Election Interference
The Administration has been taking steps that interfere with states' authority over their election systems and voter data.
Background:	Update: August 18 - In an alarming social media post, the President announced that he would sign an executive order to ban all mail-in voting across the country, an unconstitutional act for which the federal government has no legal authority. This comes after a meeting with Putin in which he spoke of the 2020 election being “rigged” by mail-in ballots. With the goal of disenfranchising voters, the current administration has been taking steps that interfere with states' rightful authority over their election systems and voter data. In at least twelve states, the DOJ has requested voter rolls, 2020 and 2024 election records, and other sensitive election data that federal law prevents the DOJ from accessing firsthand. Read more background HERE.
