

My dream state:

I want to conquer the world.

Not literally,

But Do you think I just want to be financially free?

Or go out there to blast fun and fuck?

Or just jerking around in a supercar?

NO, god didn't bring me to this world just for that, in fact he gave me a really good purpose, I want to be the most famous man and influence every individual to implement Islamic rule on every single country, the christians and jews and all the other religions can stay the same we do not care neither bother them.

But islamic rule should be all around the world.

You might think it's like the strict isis but No it's not.

The world will actually be the most peaceful place where everyone and I mean everyone will be helping each other in a good environment and there will be ZERO crime.

For all of that I need the billionaire status and that's what I'm trying to reach now.

And before this dream state,

I just really urge this scenario:

Coming home with the first copywriting money I made and handing it to my mom.

Seeing the smile and proudness on her face,

I want to see my dad finally be happy that he will not work anymore and he will be financially free. He has been waiting for me to make money for a long time.

Man, I just want to make my family happy. They mean everything to me.

Giving them money to go do whatever they liked but couldn't do in many years.
