the USDE). Their team has shared some items of concern which will guide what documentation is requested from districts in future monitoring events. o They have been much more specific in telling us what evidence may be requested in upcoming monitoring documentation collection. o The person/persons who should attend would be the staff member(s) who will be most responsible for collecting and submitting Title I and Title III program data. We are working to avoid any surprises later on. Anything we can prepare now is a bonus. Especially processes and procedures that we all follow in the T I/III (English Language Development) programs.
