

Dear Mayor Olivia Chow, Councillor Gord Perks, the Artscape Inc. Board of Directors, and TD Bank

RE: Collective Statement from Former Workers of Toronto Artscape Inc. ('Artscape')

We are the Artscape workers cast into precarity because of its forthcoming receivership. On Monday, August 28, Artscape eliminated our jobs without notice, triggered by TD Bank's refusal to extend its line of credit. Artscape has indicated that it will not be providing us, or our coworkers who were terminated earlier in July and August, with pay we are entitled to by law.

Artscape saw this crisis coming for months and gave us no notice. Given its receipt of public funds/development fees and large corporate structure, it is unacceptable for Artscape to not pay their staff during this wind-down process. Collectively, we have devoted decades of expertise and energy into the organization, "punching above our weight". We perform(ed) essential work while watching those in charge make risky and unaccountable decisions. Many of us offered warnings, to little avail. Artscape's mismanagement led to egregious levels of debt that have brought us to the situation we face today.

Thrown suddenly into a state of instability, we need fair and timely compensation. Many of us now struggle to afford rent or groceries. At the same time, we worry about the future of the City's vital arts spaces and the communities that rely upon them.

For decades, front-line workers at Artscape performed a diverse array of services for residents, visitors, and users engaged with the properties, forging important connections with members of Toronto's creative and cultural community.

Considering this, and knowing that the City, Artscape, and TD are discussing the future of our workplace without us at the table, we ask for the following:

1. Ensure our fair and quick compensation. Provide workers with termination pay in the amount of two months of wages per year worked, as well as vacation and time in lieu.
2. Give former workers priority when re-hiring. Whatever new ownership entity or restructuring model emerges, ensure that ex-Artscape employees receive priority in hiring/re-hiring. There are complex operations that require our knowledge.
3. Keep public spaces out of private hands. Preserve the spaces and hubs for artists to live and work while ensuring these buildings are not lost to the private, speculative real-estate market. Listen to the tenants of the buildings for their own self determination.
4. Give workers a say. Invite us into discussions about Artscape's future and assets. In the event that Artscape continues its operations, provide employees with greater operational and administrative control of the organization. We know this workplace best.

- 5. Meet with us. We are demanding a meeting with Olivia Chow, Gord Perks, and representatives of the City to discuss the above demands.

Over the last year we have heard the newly-elected Mayor identify continued support for affordable housing and cultural institutions as priorities for her administration. The loss of Artscape's live and work spaces and hubs would pose an enormous setback to Toronto's cultural landscape, and remove a much-needed source of affordable housing, studio, and event spaces. Artscape currently supports 265 residential tenants and owners, who deserve an answer as to what will happen to their homes as a result of this receivership.

We urge the Mayor, Councillor Perks, the leadership of Artscape, and representatives of TD Bank to listen to us when deciding the future of this institution and assets. The City has an opportunity to take bold, decisive, and much-needed action to reverse the course of what is bound to be an insurmountable loss.

Sincerely,

Artscape Workers United

cc: Councillor Brad Bradford, Councillor Shelley Carroll, Councillor Josh Matlow, Councillor Jaye Robinson, Deputy Mayor Ausma Malik
