

DC Code & Coffee 4.30 @ Your Home

Instructions and links for our main video chat and Slack channels

Hello! I'm so excited you're here with us as we come together digitally for an inclusive, informal co-working session. Many people (optionally) bring projects to work on, and many other people (optionally) socialize the entire time. It's up to you!

As a reminder, by attending this event you agree to abide by our Code of Conduct.

Getting started

Join us on Zoom, starting at 1:00pm on Sunday, April 5. Please enable your video if possible, as it makes us all more human to each other.

If your internet isn't cooperating, you can dial-in using a telephone by calling (646) 558-8656 and entering meeting ID 993 864 78096#.

If you have trouble joining, drop by Slack (described below) and we'll get it sorted!

Introductions

- Introductions will begin at approximately 1:10pm.
- Our introductions circle will happen in four rounds.
- Please add your name to the list so you'll be called on — it helps us from talking over each other.

Breaking free

Please make sure you've joined the DCTech Slack and after you've completed the signup process, join us in #dccodecoffee. We'll use that channel to communicate with each other throughout the event.

- For general conversation and socialization, use the Zoom room. We'll break into smaller breakout rooms if we're too large to have a single conversation.
- For chatting individually with someone, create a Hangout and direct message the link to them on Slack.

- For creating a group chat about a topic, create a Hangout and drop the link into #dccodecoffee with a description of the topic or discussion.
- If you'd like to focus on work and would like to leave, that's perfectly okay, too!
- We do not recommend being in more than one room at the same time, for your sanity.

Please use threads in Slack

Please use Slack threads in #dccodecoffee to reply to specific messages to keep the channel easy to follow.
