

Sombra

Overwatch

Forged with Jeff Reynolds and Kristen Ashton

Introduction

Originally Olivia Colomar, Sombra grew up as one of the many orphans left behind after the Omnic Crisis. While not physically intimidating, her ability to manipulate people and information led her to become a talented hacker. After needing to completely disappear following the discovery of a global conspiracy, she reemerged with her new name, a new implant, and a new purpose - to delve deeper into the conspiracy and bring down those that would use power to pollute the world. First to fall was Guillermo Portero of LumeriCo. After this, Sombra brokered a private deal with Katya Volskaya of Volskaya Industries - Sombra would refrain from revealing Katya's dealing with the Omnics and Katya would act as a "friend" to Sombra.

Jeff's Choices

Role

Specialist

Name

Sombra

Trait- "Broadband"

In this kit Sombra will be a specialist that will want to get in and out of the battle quickly to hack into useful items to turn the tide of battle for her team. When this trait is activated Sombra connects to the nexus and all of their abilities and auto attacks have a massively increased range. This will give this hacker more range to "play with" the enemy team.

Mount- Nexus Hex pulled from the code of the battlefield.

Q- "You've Got Mail"

Sombra will fire a Dial up laser in a straight line that will deal damage and pierces all enemies hit. Enemies hit with this will also be marked and their attack speed decreased for a short amount of time.

W- "Hack"

This ability will allow Sombra to hack into the following items when activated. Each hacking process will take Sombra a select amount of time depending on the type of unit she is hacking.

- Mercenary Camps (Medium) Sombra is able to hack merc camps when they are 50% health or lower. While the camp is hacked it will always be captured for the Sombra player, no matter what team completes the camp.
 - She can also hack into camps that have been captured by the enemy team. This hack deals damage to the camp and once it is completed the damaged camp will fight for Sombra's team.
- Map Objectives (Long) Sombra is able to hack map objectives on the battlefield and when hacked they are not able to be captured by the enemy team for a short amount of time.
- Healing Fountains (Short) Sombra can hack all healing fountains on the battlefield. Friendly hacked healing fountains will provide additional health for a short amount of time and hacked enemy healing fountains will deal damage to the enemy when used.

E- "Translocator" 2 Charges

When this ability is activated Sombra tosses a translocator ball a good distance on the battlefield. When the translocator hits the ground it opens up and immediately transports Sombra to its location. This ability can be used offensively to engage the enemy or defensively to disengage and get out of a sticky situation.

Heroic 1- "Nexus Architect"

Sombra kneels down on the battlefield and begins casting this ability that will spread as purple code on the ground. While players are standing in this code will have the key bindings on their keyboard switched, when they step out they will return to their original keys. This will only move keys to other used keys (Q might move to W and so on) This will spread a good distance out from Sombra and she must stay channeling this ability like a lurking arm.

Heroic 2- "EMP"

This is a ranged hack bomb that will set all enemy heroic abilities on cooldown. This can also be used to hack from a distance using the same chart as her "W" ability. Sombra will toss the bomb and after a short delay it will explode with purple energy affecting all units in the area.

Theme

Boop there it is!

Name

N/A

Role

Specialist

Trait

Opportunist

Much like the tower images, enemy Hero portraits reveal the percentage of health they have.

Mount

Floating Translocator

While this one doesn't teleport her, it does float.

Q

Hack and Smack

This ability allows Sombra to hack enemy structures, including Healing Fountains, and minions, rendering them dead for a short period of time. Talent tiers for this one either increase its usefulness on structures or expands to include Hero ability lockdown.

W

Whack-A-Mole

With three charges, Sombra can place three translocators on the ground, each one required to be within a certain distance of another. Using her number buttons, she can choose which one she teleports to. These can be targeted and destroyed.

E

Now You See Me

In this game of “spot the stealthie”, Sombra enters into stealth mode. While she can’t attack, she can move really fast. This stealth mode is timed and any damage knocks her out of it.

R1 & 2

Boop

Sombra loves nothing more than control over her adversaries. Using this Heroic, the hacker gets in close to an enemy Hero or structure and gives them her signature “boop” on the nose (or the closest thing to). Once booped, they now feed her information that becomes useful through the number pad. If a target nearby the booped thing is 10% health or below, she can hit the “execute” button. The thing dealing the most damage can be silenced. Enemy locations can be revealed. Because this is the only Heroic, the late game would focus heavily on talenting into this for maximum payoff.

Skin

Yawn-bra

What if Sombra could hack your dreams and make them nightmares? Like Pajamathur, Yawnbra is ready for nighttime mayhem.

Yu-Gi-Oh

Dance

Hat Dance

Sombra throws a hat on the ground and begins dancing around it while clapping her hands.
