President Portfolio

First-Year Undergraduate Science Society (FUSS)

FUSS is the departmental council for all first year science students at McGill with the goal of implementing events and services for their constituency. FUSS is a great way to develop leadership skills and give back to the first year science community. Positions are only available to students in their first year at McGill including both those coming in U0 and U1. There are seven positions available on FUSS.

FUSS Co-Presidents (2 positions)

Plan meetings and vision for the year. Support the other Executives and their initiatives. Act as the primary spokesperson of FUSS.

FUSS VP Academic (1 position)

Plan, coordinate, and organize academic events and activities for FUSS. Includes Meet Your Major, wine and cheese, and other events.

FUSS VP Communications (1 position)

Write bi-weekly Listserv (newsletter), take minutes at all FUSS meetings, and maintain FUSS social media and website.

VP External (1 position)

Represent FUSS to all external bodies and agencies in order to secure external sponsorships and sources of revenue for FUSS. Represent FUSS when planning events outside of McGill. Attend SUS General Council on behalf of FUSS and provide an update of the department's activities. Assume the duties of the President in the case of prolonged absence, bereavement, illness, or incompetence.

FUSS VP Finance (1 position)

Advise Council on financial policy and approve reimbursements and expenses, maintain and prepare the financial records of FUSS. Develop the annual budget in compliance with

Accountability Coordinators (4 positions)

The Accountability Coordinators:

- are responsible for assisting with accountability concerns brought to the attention of the Accountability Commissioner.
- work with both the Accountability Commissioner and the SUS Equity Team to consult on accountable practices, distribute resources, and resolve conflicts within the organization.

Assets:

- Communication, conflict resolution, and working within emotionally-demanding scenarios with an objective viewpoint are great assets for this position.

Equity Coordinator (3-4 positions)

The Equity Coordinators:

- are responsible for launching and leading initiatives and projects that aim to enhance equity for students in the Science community, both internally to the SUS and in external projects. They are general members of the Equity Committee.

Assets:

- Knowledge of and dedication to upholding anti-oppression and harm-reduction frameworks is an asset, as well as knowledge of and experience with survivor-based and trauma-informed practices.

Indigenous Affairs Commissioner (1 position)

The Indigenous Affairs Commissioner is responsible for overseeing the Indigenous Affairs mandate of the SUS. This includes:

- creating awareness on issues of Truth and Reconciliation;
- providing reports to the SUS on the needs of Indigenous students;
- advocating for integration of Indigenous Knowledge Systems within the Faculty of Science; and
- creating other independently-led projects that fall within the Indigenous Affairs mandate.

Preference will be given to Indigenous students. This position receives a stipend.

Involvement Restriction Policy (IRP) Committee Members

The Involvement Restriction Policy Committee:

- reports directly to the SUS Equity Commissioners;
- aid in the implementation of the All-Faculty Involvement Restriction Policy (IRP);
- Provide input to the equity commissioners in making decisions and leading investigations into equity complaints.
- Committee members deal with confidential information which is highly sensitive, emotional, and nuanced.

Requirements and assets:

- Familiarity with the All-Faculty IRP is an asset and being able to perform well under stressful and emotional scenarios while maintaining an objective viewpoint.
- Knowledge of and dedication to upholding anti-oppression and harm-reduction frameworks is necessary.
- Knowledge of and experience with survivor-based and trauma-informed practices is an asset.

VP Academic Portfolio

Academic Events Committee Members (4-6 positions)

Committee description:

The Academic Events Committee is responsible for synthesizing, planning, and running innovative academic-oriented events throughout the year. These can include but are not limited to science-related symposiums, seminars, talks, skills workshops, networking events, and competitions, on topics that can include but are not limited to careers and pathways in science, modern research and how students can get involved, hearing about work done by McGill faculty members and alumni, strengthening CV, interview, and study skills, a roadmap of professional school admission tests, and more. The purpose of such events should be to inform and involve students in the acquisition of relevant academic skills and knowledge. Attendance at meetings are mandatory, with commitment to the position starting at the beginning of the Fall 2026 semester and lasting year-round.

Academic Resources Committee Members (5 positions)

Committee description:

- The Academic Resources Committee is responsible for the creation and dissemination of useful information related to students' academic matters. This can include but is not limited to the semesterly 'Know Your Academic Rights' campaign, a study tips, locations, and resources series, information on resources provided by McGill that may aid students with their academic endeavors, such as specific software and database access, information on accessing advisors, and more. They are also responsible for maintaining the SUS Syllabus Repository.

Leo Yaffe Prize Committee (4 alternates)

This committee recommends a science professor for the Leo Yaffe Award for Excellence in Teaching. This award is given out for outstanding teaching and training of undergraduates in the Faculty of Science. The committee is composed of Science Faculty members and four student members, two of which are alternates. Alternates are used in the case that a candidate professor has taught one of the student committee members, resulting in a conflict of interest. The Leo Yaffe Prize Committee meets once towards the end of the academic year. Attendance is mandatory.

After Hours Coordinators (4 positions)

The SUS After Hours committee will consist of an After Hours directors, and After Hours coordinators. The After Hours initiative is aimed to create a stronger sense of community within the science faculty. The committee is responsible for co-hosting social bonding events with departmental societies on a weekly or bi-weekly basis. This year, the committee will be responsible for the planning and potential implementation of a science bar. The committee will be a year-long commitment and applicants are expected to be organized and self-motivated.

After Hours Coordinators:

- Report directly to the After Hours director.
- Are responsible for the direct communication and coordination between departmental student council and the committee.

Role requirements and assets:

- Event planning and good communication are great assets.
- Time management, teamwork, strong organization skills required.

Clubs and Services Committee (1 director, 2 coordinators)

This committee is responsible for overseeing the integration of student clubs, services, and other initiatives into the SUS. The C&S committee will consist of the VP External, two C&S Directors and four committee members. This coming year, the committee will be responsible for receiving and reviewing applications for clubs and services to affiliate with SUS, maintaining a budget to fund clubs, and advertising clubs and services under our portfolio to the general science student body.

Director Information:

- The C&S Director position sets the tone and structure for the committee.
- The Director works closely with the VP External of the SUS and with Clubs and Services directly to ensure that the Committee works to support them in their projects and needs.
- The director oversees new applications and the process of registering clubs and services under the SUS.
- Previous experience with SUS Clubs and Services or with the committee will be favoured.

Coordinator information:

- Interested in the C&S Committee, but worry you don't have the experience or knowledge for the role, look no further, as here is your perfect introduction!
- For those who have strong communication and organization skills and want to become more involved in the SUS, the C&S Committee is the perfect place to become more knowledgeable, gain critical skills, and share your passions with the SUS!
- Those who wish that clubs were advertised more, who have experience with budgeting, and are looking for somewhere to get more involved with the SUS should strongly consider joining the C&S Committee as a Committee Member!

GC Clubs Representatives (2 positions)

Have you been on a SUS club this year and thought “I wish that my concerns and ideas, and those of other clubs, could be brought to the SUS and see real action taken!”, then take a look in the mirror, and you might see the future GC Club Representative looking back! Raising concerns, ideas, and comments of the clubs of the SUS are critical to a healthy community, and you will help fill that niche (yes, it’s a biology reference - we’re the SUS after all). By attending GC meetings, reporting back to those you represent, and ensuring all voices are heard, you will help make the clubs and services an even better aspect of the SUS for everyone. Those with strong communication skills, experience on an SUS club, and an interest in championing ideas are a perfect fit for this role!

Bridge to Campus

- Description:
  - Bridge to Campus aims to provide free mentorship resources to Canadian students in rural communities, helping them transition seamlessly to university life. Many of our mentors and executives share a rural background, granting them insight into the challenges of accessing personalized guidance on their academic journey. For McGill students, we offer the opportunity to engage with a community of peers passionate about making higher education more accessible.

Compete McGill

- Description:
  - Compete McGill is devoted to helping students push their limits in Computer Science and Software Engineering. While we do send teams to represent McGill competitively, our main goal is to train any student, regardless of skill level and prior knowledge - whether their purpose is to compete, to get a job or just to have some fun!
- Email: compete.mcgill@gmail.com

McGill Artificial Intelligence Society

- Description:
  - We make AI more accessible by hosting bootcamps and workshops that give students the opportunity to learn about AI in a peer-based, supportive environment. We want to make AI fun and welcoming. Our initiatives focus on giving participants the opportunity to meet others interested in AI. Montreal is one of the world's leading AI hubs. Through our hackathon, learnathon, and industry events, we help connect McGill students with Montreal's AI ecosystem.

McGill International Physicists' Tournament Club (MIPT)

- Description:
  - The MIPT's goal is to provide students at McGill with the experience of doing their own research independently. This is an especially good opportunity for U0, U1 and U2s to develop their critical thinking, problem-solving and research abilities without needing to apply/be accepted into competitive research positions. Our club strives to have a mix of different students (not necessarily just physics students) such that we have unique and different perspectives on how to approach our problems!

McGill Quantitative Research Club

- Description:
  - At McGill Quantitative Research (QR), we focus on giving students hands-on experience in areas directly relevant to careers in quantitative finance. Our members will work on real-world quant research projects, applying techniques in algorithmic trading, data science, financial engineering, and risk management. We emphasize practical applications of these skills by enabling students to publish their findings and present them to industry professionals for actionable feedback. This not only helps students refine their work but also opens doors for potential job opportunities.
- Email: info@mcgillqr.com

McGill Science Undergraduate Research Journal (MSURJ)

- Description:
  - When the McGill Science Undergraduate Research Journal (MSURJ) launched in Fall 2005 as a student-run initiative to promote and support undergraduate research, it was one of North America's first peer-reviewed journals devoted to undergraduate work. The journal offers undergraduate students from any university the unique opportunity to publish their findings to the McGill research community.

SUS Peer Tutoring

- Description:
  - SUS Peer Tutoring is a 100% free, volunteer-based tutoring service. This program relies on gracious volunteers to tutor students that sign up with us. You can be sure of your tutor's skill, as they have achieved at least an A- in the course they are tutoring! In addition to matching tutor and tutee, we also organize group tutorials and review sessions. All you need to do is fill out a quick form and you'll be matched up as soon as possible. Hurry though, tutors run out quickly!

SynBio

- Description:
  - SynBio Collective (SBC) is a laboratory mentorship and training program that offers passionate undergraduate students the opportunity to gain wet lab research experience and theoretical knowledge in a welcoming lab environment and at a price affordable to the student body. We all know that research opportunities are slim for undergraduate students, especially those without prior experience; thus, with SBC, we aim to increase accessibility and foster motivation towards the world of research for the next generation of scientists.
