The GIVE Partnership Team invites New York City Cultural Arts Organizations with education programming to participate in a FREE year-long community learning program focused on deepening inclusive arts education practices within their work!

APPLICATION DEADLINE EXTENDED: 11:59pm ET on Monday May 2nd

Grow with GIVE is a free program, funded by The New York Community Trust, designed to support five NYC-based arts organizations to fully utilize and implement the GIVE Guide into their classroom settings and organizational practices. Grow with GIVE will take place during the 2022-23 academic school year and will give organizations the tools to deepen their inclusive practices in ICT and other classroom settings serving students with disabilities.

Preparation time is needed to complete this application. You can also use this document as a worksheet to prepare prior to submitting the online application. Click HERE for the Grow with GIVE information sheet. HERE for a link to the March 31st Open House video and if you require sign interpretation for the above video, click THIS link.

If you need assistance completing this application, have questions about the accessibility of this application, or need to complete this application in a different format, please contact the GIVE team at admin@teachwithgive.org.

A panel will review each application carefully using the following criteria:

- Demonstration of inclusive practices in previous and current arts education programming with students with disabilities (District 75 schools, inclusion or ICT classrooms, etc.).
- Commitment to deepening and improving inclusive practices in classrooms and throughout their organization.
- Commitment or testimonials from Teaching Artists regarding professional development support and stated needs for inclusive practices in inclusion classroom settings.
- Commitment from Teaching Artists and administrators to participate in the program evaluation.
- While there is no requirement for budget or staff size, arts discipline or arts education program designs or models, the hope is that there will be a healthy mix of size and focus across the five selected organizations.

Applicants will be informed by late May.

Thank you for your interest!!
