

What You Need to Know About Letters for Medical Schools

Once you have submitted all your secondaries, there are 3 types of letters you can consider sending to medical schools: update letters, letters of continued interest and letters of intent. For each of these letters, you need to understand why you would send one, when you should send one and the best way to write each letter. The resources below will help you.

Must Visit Resources

- Anatomy of Letters to Medical School Admission

Additional Resources to Explore

- Articles
 - How to Write a Letter of Intent
 - Sample Update Letter
 - Example of Letter of Intent