

Alex D'Allura
Campus Technology Advisor
Lambent Spaces

Alex D'Allura is a forward-thinking campus technology advisor who has made significant strides in revolutionizing data-driven decision-making across higher education institutions. With a keen eye for innovation and a passion for enhancing the academic ecosystem, Alex has become an influential voice in the realm of campus technology and space utilization.