

Outreach

Hi there,

I hope this finds you well and in good spirits!

My name is Gleb Blaauw, and I am a Digital Marketing specialist.

My online research has led me to your business via Social Media and drew me to your website. I want to express my interest in what your company offers, such as the opportunities for traders with funded accounts and the 14-day payouts instead of the original 30-day payouts as the other firms do. By having a shorter waiting period, you have already positioned yourself in a better position than the other firms, but you might still not be attracting as many clients as they are, and here is why:

By doing detailed research on your company's Instagram page, I have seen that you are not using a powerful marketing strategy when posting content, whether it be general information, chart analysis, or speaking to one of your top clients, causing your business to attract fewer people than its potential.

When you use a powerful marketing strategy, you will maximize the number of people you reach, especially on social media, convert more of those potential clients into leads, and increase your number of sales as a whole.

What I would like to offer you is the following:

I will help you market four social media posts by writing them and creating a sequence on how to post them with a tailored marketing strategy that is guaranteed to reach and influence more people to take action. I will do this for free to showcase my work, and if you are happy with the results, we can discuss more ways to help your business attract more clients and push your sales numbers up. Now, I may not be the top Marketing specialist in the world, but I can assure you that I will provide you with better results than you currently receive.

If this is something of interest to you, I would recommend we have a face-to-face discussion via Zoom so that I can have a clear understanding of your business goals and tailor the perfect strategy for your goals.

Kind Regards,
Gleb Blaauw.
