

My personal Upgraded version is the google Doc link it has pictures.

Who do you want to be?

I want to be a tough, strong, smart, attractive and brave man.

I want to be able to support my entire family and I want to be able to afford to take beautiful women on really nice dates.

I want to be the guy who can endure over and over the fucking toughest struggles and still not give up. Mostly even make it look easy.

I want to be the guy who pulls up in a supercar that I earned for myself and didn't get from my rich dad or winning the gay ass lottery.

I want to be a man people can look up to and depend on. They guy everyone comes to when they either need great advice or shit done immediately.

I wanna be the guy who rolls up in light suit wear and is always looking professional so he is always treated as a professional.

I want to be a king in my own life. Completely in control of everything around me.

How much money do you want?

$64,000 dollars coming in every month.

What things do you want?

I wanna drive a Black and red Nissan GTR 600 horsepower NISMO tuned twin turbocharged V6.

And I want gold and black leather seats on it that say kuski. $279,000 total

I want a new desk setup with a charcoal black 6 feet wide 3 feet long desk, over the computer lighting with two monitors, a matte black mouse and a George Washington painting behind the computers.

I can't find a picture to replicate exactly what I want so I found the sexiest looking setup I could find and this is the new love of my life. Plus I think the scenery is awesome too.

A new dining room table. I want it to be a dark oak table from the furniture store near me home (I can picture this one very clearly because I work next door and see it everyday and I crave it) It costs $3200.

I wanna eat work and sleep at this table. So essentially stay at the table my whole existence

A new coffee table for my living room (I don't even have one) This thing cost 1200 if you cant tell I have an insufferable desire for dark oak objects and furniture.

I know this might not count but I love pretty women a lot because I'm a man with desires so I want to be able to afford going on at least 3 dates a week. I want to buy fat ass fucking steaks at every single dinner and I want the girls to be able to buy $800 dollars worth of shit if they wanted.

Steak like this (My mouth is actually watering)

I want a new painting job in my apartment which will cost around 4k from my estimation.

I enjoy a more professional look instead of a colorful one. I have yellowish walls right now and it just reminds me of boogers or cigarette smoke stains

(Pause and reflect on your life up until today)

Who are your enemies?

My enemies are anyone who tries to weaken me. They need to be cast away or destroyed.

I would say my biggest enemy is the weak little timid bitch pussy ass version of myself. Because I am constantly at war with this enemy and if I lose a single battle it could really fuck shit up.

What do you fear the most?

Never being able to have kids because I couldn't get enough money together to be able to hold a family.

BEING A FAILURE

What don't you want people to say about you?

I don't want people to say that I'm weak or lazy

I don't want people to say that I'm a failure.

I don't want people to say that I don't care about my family.

I don't want people to say that I didn't even try. I want it to be clear as day that I'm giving it my all.

I don't want others to say that I can become anything. I want them to know that I will become rich and powerful.

What do you want others to say about you?

I want others to say that I'm a great person who always does my absolute best and never gives up.

I want people to say that I'm genuine and that I have people's best interests and that I'm not completely in it for me.

I want people to say that I'm the type of person who is bound to be a millionaire because I just won't fucking quit ever.

Looking back over the last year, what mistakes did you make? Where did you fail?

Looking back over the past year the mistakes I made are clear to me. I chose a woman over my purpose. There really isn't any other mistake I have made. I have been going forward rapidly ever since I left her.

Where I failed is every single time I would go to do my GWS we would fight and then that fight would last forever while I'm not even fighting. I'm essentially just getting ridiculed and shit on. I can take a lot before I get frustrated enough to flip out but this relationship kept me from moving forward and I'm not willing to let ANYTHING get in my way.

I failed to properly set the tone for me and her relationship early on. Me and her started real young so I didn't know any better. I was already way too deep and she couldn't accept that I needed more time for my personal mission.

I should have just analyzed my situation and made the hard choice fast so that it didn't take so much of my time.

There are plus sides to this though. I am in a new state. I'm surrounded by everything new and I am at a fresh start so building my character from here will be a cinch.

Current strengths?

Knowledge and practical use of AI I have. I can create a copy with AI in a very short amount of time.

The mind that will not quit no matter what. I will not give up on what I want. I must have it.

Wordpress knowledge I can design and create a pretty good website in about 3 weeks (I only have about 3 hours a day if I scrounge all my time that's why it would take 3 weeks)

Creating effective outreach with the help of AI. (Brought me 4 sales calls in the past 2 days)

What 3 skills do you lack now that you have to acquire as quickly as possible to hit the next level?

- Sales call mastery
- Google ads
- Belief In myself (I run into something that I feel like I can't do and sometimes it will get me)

I can actually feel how close the breakthrough is for me.

My body gets hot when I think about it, the best way to describe it would be I'm right at the inflection point and It's getting hard but I see the bright and shiny gold on the other side so there's no stopping now.

I'm so sick of being broke that I have fucking had enough. Fuck living like a broke bitch I am going to make money.
