

eternal return – collection narrative eternal return marks the beginning of bedaya jewellery, a debut collection that explores the poetry of return and the enduring bond between memory and place. rooted in the symbolism of the key, the collection reimagines a classic motif into a contemporary design language, where each piece becomes a reflection of love, belonging, and time the decision to launch the brand with a collection reimagining and truly exploring the design of a key reflects the designers, mohammad abdelkader, palestinian background. drawing inspiration from decades worth of imagery & symbolism and reinterpreting the ways in which the story and impact can be carried forward in many different ways through sculptural precision and refined metalwork, eternal return introduces bedaya jewellery's signature chain of keys, a form both delicate and resolute. each element interlocks and mirrors the next, expressing continuity, connection, and the quiet strength of what endures. these are pieces designed to be worn close, carried, and held over time every piece within the collection carries a sense of movement and memory. fluid lines and considered forms echo the rhythm of journeys and returns, while the purity of the metal reflects bedaya jewellery's commitment to craftsmanship and detail eternal return moves beyond adornment. it reflects on the cyclical nature of life and love, the idea that we are always finding our way back, to a place, a person, or a moment. each design invites a sense of reflection, shaped by what we hold onto and what draws us home eternal return embodies the foundation of bedaya jewellery, where fine jewellery in the region is created with meaning, balancing modern design with emotional depth. each piece becomes part of a larger story, intended to be worn, lived in, and passed on summary

eternal return marks the beginning of bedaya jewellery, a debut collection rooted in the symbolism of the key and the enduring connection between memory and place. reimagining a familiar form through a contemporary lens, each piece reflects love, belonging, and time. shaped in part by mohammad abdelkader's palestinian background, the collection draws from deeply embedded cultural symbolism, carrying its meaning forward through design defined by sculptural precision and refined metalwork, eternal return introduces bedaya jewellery's signature chain of keys, where each element interlocks in a gesture of continuity and connection. fluid forms and considered details echo the rhythm of journeys and return, creating fine jewellery that moves beyond adornment. each piece is designed to be worn, lived in, and passed on, embodying bedaya jewellery's vision of modern heirlooms grounded in story and meaning