

No-Sew Blanket Instructions

Creating a no-sew throw blanket is a simple and fun DIY project that requires just fleece fabric, scissors, and a bit of tying!

Materials Needed

- Fleece Fabric: Choose two pieces of fleece fabric (1.5 yards each, depending on the desired blanket size). You can use different colors or patterns for a fun look.
- Scissors: For cutting the fabric.
- Measuring Tape: To ensure accurate cuts (optional).

Step-by-Step Instructions

1. Prepare the Fabric:

- Lay the two pieces of fleece on a flat surface, with the right sides facing out (the soft side of the fabric should be on the outside). Ensure they are aligned properly.

2. Trim the Edges:

- Cut off any selvage edges to create a clean starting point. Make sure both pieces are the same size.

2. Cut the Corners:

- Cut a 5-inch square from each corner of the fabric. This will help create the fringe for tying later.

2. Create the Fringe:

- Starting from the edge of the fabric, cut strips about 1 to 1.5 inches wide and 5 inches deep along all four sides of the blanket. Make sure to cut through both layers of fabric at the same time.

2. Tie the Fringe:

- Take one strip from the top layer and one from the bottom layer and tie them together in a knot (similar to tying a balloon knot). Make sure the knots are snug but not too tight. Repeat this process around the entire blanket until all strips are tied

2. Finish Up:

- Once all the strips are tied, your no-sew throw blanket is complete! You can give it a gentle shake to fluff it up and make it cozy.
