Professional Experience

American Express (OnBrand)
Front-End Engineer

New York City, NY
November 2021 - Current

I have worked on hundreds of in-house marketing client projects, building out: landing pages, email templates, banner templates, article pages, etc.

- Led the way in an accessibility compliance redesign of the Credit Intel financial site:
 - Consists of over 500 pages
 - The platform has grown 16% since the redesign, with over 1.7M unique visitors in the first 8 months of 2025.
- Over the years, has been the developer on many of the company's most visible promotional and cross-promotional landing pages, including:
 - AMEX Member Week
 - AMEX Venues
 - NBA & WNBA All-Star Games
 - Wimbledon
 - U.S. Open
 - Coachella

Creative Circle

Front-End Developer

New York City, NY

March 2015 - November 2021

I work on our client's projects, usually of the front-end variety. Sometimes projects require full-stack development, design, development, and web production.

- I worked on building out pages and new functionality for the website, noramco.com, using the Fusion Core/Builder, PHP, and jQuery.
- I was previously assigned to the media agency, tbwachatdayny.com, where I worked on e-mail, landing page, and web page campaigns for HP and Michelin.
- I've been assigned to the media agency, monacolange.com, where I worked on e-mail campaigns for mercercor.com.
- I've worked on responsive e-mail accounts for Levi's and Dockers through the company tagworldwide.com.
- I've coded out several pages for Philosophy.
 - I also ran and coded their private Joomla site.
- I've coded out several pages of The French Heritage Society's website through the company i-mack.com. (WordPress)
- I completely customized a template for aststudios.com, including coding new pages and editing existing code. (WordPress)
- I helped to rebuild and redesign the website ois.net for the company IBF Conferences. Tasks included designing and coding several WordPress pages, creating custom fields, and providing SEO support.
- I helped to rebuild and redesign the website altending.com/ for the company i-mack.com.
- I was tasked with designing, coding, and testing several responsive email templates for the companies Ableto.com and Peter Thomas Roth.
