

TRAVEL IN A TIME MACHINE

Directions: Choose one of the following scenarios or make up one of your own. Continue the story. Use dialogue, descriptive language, symbolism. Finish the story. What advice would you give your future generations? (200 word minimum) These will be published and shared on a web page anonymously. ADD PICTURES!!

Scenario #1

You enter a time machine. You are transported 100 years into the future. You see your great great great granddaughter working in McDonalds. She's standing in the store room and her manager is talking to her.

"Hey there, Sophia. You look very nice today. I love when you wear that shirt. It fits you perfectly. Why don't you stay behind and help me close? I can't wait to be alone with you."

Sophia starts to squirm. She looks worried. She nods silently and walks away. She walks to the front of the store and you see her nervously biting her lip. Suddenly she sees a shadow materialize from the corner of her eye. It's a ghostly apparition. It's you! What do you say?

Scenario #2

You enter a time machine. You are transported 100 years into the future. You see your great, great great grandson hanging out with a group of young men. One of them takes him aside and hands him a weapon. He says, "Hey, Abel. Take a few of the guys and get us a car. I can't do it because I'm on probation. You're young so nothing is going to happen to you."

Abel begins to say something, but changes his mind. He takes the weapon and nods. He goes into a gangway to think for a second. Suddenly he sees a shadow materialize from the corner of his eye. It's a ghostly apparition. It's you! What do you say?

Scenario #3

You enter a time machine. You are transported 100 years into the future. You see your non-binary great great great grandchild in high school. They are sitting alone at the lunch table. Other students are sniggering and laughing at them. They are sad and depressed. You see them look at the door and you know they are thinking of walking out of school and never coming back.

They get up and head for the door. Suddenly they see a shadow materialize from the corner of their eye. It's a ghostly apparition. It's you! What do you say?

Scenario #4

You enter a time machine. You are transported 100 years into the future. You see ...