

As we all know, Darcy's determination to rule over Earth is ludicrous, here I propose is a good way to teach her/them/it that:

Anne: Hey Darcy, pick a number, pick a color, pick a number, pick a color.

Darcy: Green

Anne: NUMBER!

Darcy: Three

Anne: One, Two, Three, your interpretation of international relations and basic diplomacy is naive and simplistic

What if Anne and Sasha try to negotiate in an insult based mannee, how fun will that be?

Darcy: I want to kill you and overrule the world

Sasha: Let's talk this through

Anne: Help me, help you, help me help you!

When Darcy lands to Earth and demands to see the leader, according to an unofficial (non-existent) poll, when 100 people around the world were asked where will they tell Darcy to go to to meet the world's leader,

50% will tell Darcy to go to The White House

45% will tell Darcy to go to Beijing

4% will tell Darcy to go to Mar A Lago

1% will tell Darcy to go to the Kremlin

0% will tell Darcy to go to the United Nations
