PUTERII PANDAMONIA

Strange stirrings have begun to occur in the lands of Beatha, as a fracture has occurred along the mountains bordering Coinneal. While conducting a routine investigation, members of the Orivichian Pack of the Green Fang were attacked, their numbers being reduced by no less than 30 members. Survivors returned with texts, indecipherable, written by Ambrosia Vandercharm. Our readers may not know, but Vandercharm is said to have disappeared 30 years after the first Impulsum Eventu after being chastised for their attempt to study the Vatra Puterii from a scientific point of view. Their last known words before their disappearance were "I shall be where those who seek knowledge go to understand the beyond itself..."

The "Commoner King" of Regnoprendis announces that his first official public hearing will be in one month's time. Dignitaries from many nations are assumed to attend this event. Many believe this announcement to be consequent to the announcement of the Theaceae Emporium's decision to create a headquarters in the kingdom. With a strong financial backing, the Commoner King has stated that no despot shall return to...

A CALL TO A DAUGHTER OF MINE

Oh great and mighty princess of hedonism, my beloved, the sanguine pulse of Sargoria... Now that I have your attention... Sibilla Derimeioth, return to your station this instant. Your selfish desires cannot be indulged any longer. The death of your brother and your current condition make this a matter most urgent. I demand that you would make haste to Sargoria. It is time that you understood your place. If you shall not come on your own, you shall be returned. Be warned, you have one month before the Nadrilari begin their movements upon you, oh daughter of mine.
